Mr. J R. Rees further examined.

323. The Chairman.] You wish to correct some statement made by you at your previous examination?—Yes. I wish to say now, with regard to the statement (Question 94) referring to the Governor's approval, that, after the lapse of eighteen months, I am not prepared to say who made the suggestion; but, as Sir John Coode's report was written shortly after the interview, it is more than probable that he is correct—that I did suggest it. I stated (Question 67) that the cost of cement was £5 5s.; but from further calculations I find it to be £5 1s. I also stated (Question 107) that the increased cost of cement represented a difference of £13,500. I now wish to state that, upon further calculation, I
