men would deteriorate, whereas steady employment and the difference between social security benefit and award rates of pay enable them to maintain their health and a reasonably contented psychology, to provide a somewhat improved standard of comfort for their dependants, and to render useful service to the community.

The numbers of men engaged in each main class of work are :-

Streets, roads, and	reserves		 	 		352
River-protection			 	 		8
School-ground imp	rovements		 	 	٠.	15
Vegetable-product:			 	 		179

Rabbit-extermination: To obviate the necessity for continued subsidies to encourage "summer" rabbiting, the Sale of Rabbit-skins Emergency Regulations 1942 were passed on the 15th April, 1942. The main purpose of these regulations is to provide a scheme, by means of a system of levies and subsidies, whereby persons engaged in the destruction of rabbits will obtain approximately the same return from summer killing as from winter killing, and in this way it is hoped to defeat the instinct to "farm" rabbits in summer for the sake of their greater winter value.

Financial.—Provision for expenditure incurred in the promotion of employment is subject to appropriation by Parliament in terms of the Public Revenues Act, 1926, and during the year under review the sum of £263,500 (gross) was appropriated from the Consolidated Fund under vote, "Labour," for this purpose.
