

and Crown Agent. To do what has been asked would be simply going behind the award of the Compensation Court, and would be virtually making a fresh order in favour of a limited number of persons—a position which this Court is not prepared to take up.

“Taking that view, this Court awards three shares to each adult male, two shares to each adult female, and one share to each child—as set out in list published in the N.Z. Gazette of 14th November, 1874—making a total of 122 shares. Order accordingly.

4. According to Mr. Hislop, the conductor for the petitioners before this Court, they claim that only the thirty persons named in list No. 1 before Judge Johnson should be retained in the title and that the twenty-six persons named in List No. 2 should be excluded. These lists were lodged by Te Warana Mokomoko. No. 1 were alleged to be true Upokorehe, and No. 2 wrongly described as Upokorehe.
