2. REPORT OF CAPTAIN S. HOLM, NEW ZEALAND EMPLOYERS' DELEGATE

Wellington, 26th August, 1946.

As arranged, I attended the International Labour Conference held in Seattle at which maritime affairs were discussed.

Owing to air travel being unobtainable I left New Zealand on 18th May and travelling via San Francisco, reached Seattle on the evening of 4th June. Committee meetings commenced next day, and the General Conference was opened on 6th June, and from that day till the conclusion of the Conference (on Saturday, 29th June) meetings were held every day, with the exception of Sundays, and frequently at night. This was the first international Conference I have attended, and I found it very interesting and educative.
