London, 13th June, 1906.

TARIFF REFORM LEAGUE, LIVERPOOL.

MADAM,—
At a meeting of the Executive of the above league, held to-day, the following resolution was unanimously passed: "That the deep and sincere sympathy of the league be conveyed to Mrs. R. J. Seddon and family in their great bereavement; and that expression be given to the sense of the great loss which the whole Empire has sustained through the death of the distinguished Premier of New Zealand."

Liverpool, 11th June, 1906.

It is felt that the loss of your husband is a sad blow to the principles of colonial preference, which he had done so much to promote, but our league trust that those principles will be carried on and brought eventually to a successful issue.

Yours, &c.,

Mrs. R. J. Seddon, Wellington.

T. H. WELSFORD, Chairman.

D. C. PUGH, Hon. Secretary.

UNITED EMPIRE TRADE LEAGUE.

DEAR MRS. SEDDON,—
Amid the innumerable tributes of sympathy in the irreparable loss to the British Empire of that illustrious statesman, the Right Hon. Richard Seddon, none can be more sincere than that of the council of the United Empire Trade League, whose Imperial aims he did so much to further.

London, 12th June, 1906.

His name will ever live in British history, and his life be an incentive to Britons through the centuries.

May you live long in the memory of the companionship of such a prince among men, and may his descendants through many generations emulate his example.

Yours, &c.,

Mrs. R. J. Seddon, Wellington.

C. HOWARD VINCENT, Hon. Secretary.
