* The first award came into force on the 19th April, 1902.

It will be seen from the above statement that the minimum rate in the Northern District, under awards, has increased approximately by 6d. per day (= 6½ per cent.) during the period of twelve years 1902–13.

In giving evidence before the Cost of Living Commission in 1912 Mr. Leyland (p. 360) stated that the increase in the wages actually paid in the last six years to seventy-six men and boys at his town mill was £57 2s. 6d. per week, or 41 per cent. His bush wages ten years ago ranged from 35s. to 45s. per week and found (10s.), whilst in 1912 they ranged from 57s. 6d. to 70s. and found (20s.); this showed an increase of from 22s. 6d. to 25s. per week and found (10s.) = 67½ per cent.
